Nowadays, when tiny house movement or small living spaces is in trend, the residents of micro-apartments usually suffer in finding the right furniture for their homes. Studio or micro apartments usually require furniture that not only increases the aesthetics of the house, but also provide ample space to carry out your work. To attract residents living in small apartments, we have created the “UP” ceiling bed. It is an adjustable bed that disappears into the ceiling and reveals itself only when the bed is required. Thus, provides ample space to convert a room into an office or studio easily in the morning.
